STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The house at 110-112 Greene Street is representative of the classically influenced middle class domestic architecture of the mid nineteenth century in Cumberland. Rows of houses of this type with symmetrical facades in detached and semi-detached, double form with parapet or step end gables were being constructed in the city in the 1830s - 1850s period. Few of the houses remain in original condition. Most of the houses were altered with the change of styles and/or use of the building as is evident here.
